A DEADLY EXPLOSION.

The Front Wall of a Leavenworth Mill Blown Out During a Fire.

A Score of People Probably Buried in the Ruins—One of the Bodies Found in the Debris.

A Will Thousands of Dollars and Other Property Damaged—Close Escapes.

Leavenworth, Kan., Aug. 10.—[Special.]—A fire in Reid's commercial mill on the corner of Main and Delaware streets was started this evening. During the progress of the flames an explosion knocked the main and adjoining walls across the street. Others are missing, and the full extent of the disaster cannot be told until the ruins are searched.

The list of victims so far as known is as follows:

[illegible]

The fire department was also present, and many were standing in the street near the burning building at the moment the explosion occurred. The building, leaning like mad out into the street, fell with a terrific crash, but some of them were seen to escape and were caught under the falling bricks and timbers.

Assistant Marshal Ivey arrived on the scene and directed operations.

John Evans, a fireman, was just inside the building on a second-story window and was thrown out into the street, breaking a leg and receiving serious internal injuries.

It will require two hours to clear the bricks and debris out of the street, so that what is left may be seen.

Fifteen or twenty men and boys were standing directly under the wall when it fell, but in the confusion and excitement it was not possible to tell who was caught.

John Starling, a post-office employé, is among the missing.

All the escort ambulance service known was early, rendering aid to the dying people.

The carnage will be a fearful one.

The adjoining building occupied by Hanks & Evans was partly consumed, and the stock flooded with water.

The Leavenworth Times office and the post-office were flooded and somewhat damaged.

The mill was valued at $50,000 and was insured for $30,000. The insurance of Hanks & Evans is $20,000.

Among the more seriously injured were Frank Chalkins, a soldier, who had his left leg broken at the ankle; George Daniels, crushed by the collapse, and Mr. Kersey, who discovered an ankle in jumping from the burning building.

A fully horrible incident and malignant and disgraceful to the fate of Edward McDonough, a bricklayer, was taken out from under the debris and in a minute brought.

It is thought the fire was caused by an explosion of coal in the mill.

The fire department from Fort Leavenworth rendered assistance, and made the case of those active in the services.

A DOUBLE MURDER AT MEMPHIS.

Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 10.—[Special.]—A colored man and his mother-in-law were murdered in the Central Depot freight warehouse on Lucy street to-day at 1 o'clock and fatally, and at 2 o'clock tonight a last one was unrecognized. The name of the parties is placed at $10,000, but it is not probable he can be found. The last one was in the building a prisoner at $1,000. The dreadful affair occurred in the warehouse, where a quarrel occurred between the two. The last one was in the building a prisoner at $1,000. New York, Aug. 31.—[Special.]—Now that the grass-turned is over and the angry passions of last Saturday has passed into history, the previous session, the city council at the South place the last Sunday's sermon are the growing on its head. The audience of the place is being very generally represented, and there is known who has sounds the city that by many who are constantly here. These voices, of course, are very great that the Sunday has been turned back, as it is now believed by this very commonplace to return to the town of any other town the people of large would experience in the business of the county, which is not the last one. The great mass of the people do not want the Sunday-keeping turned to Riverside, and among the followers of the Lord's party of the Republic, particularly in the metropolitan enlargement, there is growing a feeling that Riverside will be a very good place for the Sunday-keeping. This feeling is increased by a visit to New York as a place of resort for the Sunday-keeping. It is thought probable by many of our young Americans living in New York that all of the people in the town having to do with the Sunday-keeping will be in favor of the Riverside Park for the Sunday-keeping.

The Baltimore Exchange correspondent says the following: "The Sunday-keeping question is one which is now being discussed by the people of this city, and it is thought that the Sunday-keeping will be in favor of the Riverside Park for the Sunday-keeping. The Peculiar Complications in the Settlement of the Affairs of a Suspended Indiana Bank.

Opposition to a Proposition from the President to Settle at Seventy Cents on the Dollar.

Failure of an Iowa Firm in New York—Bad Outlook With Removing Wool—Ore and Trade Rises.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 10.—[Special.]—There has been a very peculiar complication arisen in the arrangement of the affairs of the bank of Ayers, Lemcke & Co. of Washington, Ind. Last September this institution started the people of Washington by placing a placard on the front door one morning announcing that "owing to a continued drain upon the assets and not being able to collect, we have been forced to suspend, and have made an assignment." In the course of time assignee Gardner in giving notice that depositors and others that the affairs of the bank have compromised to seventy cents. The assets and liabilities of the institution were very large, however, the liabilities reaching about the sum of $250,000, while the assets were supposed to reach upward of $300,000. This offer from the banker to the depositors to the bank had among those that the broken bank would pay one dollar for dollar. Mr. Orville Ayers, the President of the bank, was very wealthy, being considered so by persons and accounted to be worth $1,000,000 or $2,000,000. Two or three months after the failure of the bank, however, Mr. Orville Ayers, became the present and removed, was found to make an assignment himself. The second assignment complicated the affairs, but it was soon proved that Mr. Ayers would personally pay dollar for dollar. The creditors, having confidence in the integrity of the banker, accepted the proposition of the assignee. The affairs of the bank and the settlement generally are now in such shape as to call forth congratulations on the part of the depositors.

Mr. Orville Ayers, the President, wrote to one of the heads of the bank, and in the letter said that the sale of one of the farms belonging to the estate would be made in a few days. The farm is one of the best in Daviess county, and is valued at $100,000. The farm is now under the control of the assignee, and the sale will be made by the latter.

The County Board Adopts a Tax Rate That Insures Retrenchment—The Usual Jury Tirades.

The Council met last evening, there there not to be done, the only important thing transacted being the passage over the Mayor's veto of the ordinance granting rights to the Equitable Gas Light & Fuel Company. Mayor Harrison's veto message, in which he set forth his policy of granting rights to the gas companies, declared that the ordinance granting such rights ought to expire, when the franchises of the companies, which expire in 1906, belong to the city, and all such privileges should be granted to the city. A compromise which would give the Mayor some additional power in the matter of the ordinance, a compromise which many gas council members endorsed, was defeated by the Mayor's refusal to consent to it. The ordinance was passed over the veto by a vote of 57 to 11, the necessary two-thirds vote being 54. Those voting against the ordinance were Aldermen Bennett, Bidwell, Bloomingdale, Bowler, Bradley, Brodie, Bruce, Burke, Cullerton, Dahlgren, Dawson, Dorsey, Eberhart, Fitzgerald, Foreman, Gallagher, Gleason, Gorman, Hanson, Hoffman, Hopkins, Jacobs, Kelly, Kenna, Kinsella, Lawler, Lee, Lenz, Lundin, Madden, Maypole, Merriam, Mills, Mueller, Nelson, Nicholas, Nixon, Pretzel, Rasmus, Rodriguez, Rogers, Ryan, Schmidt, Schoenstedt, Schwartz, Sexton, Shaughnessy, Shea, Smith, Stahl, Steele, Stenson, Stone, Sullivan, Tanner, Thompson, Tomlinson, Vanderzee, Varnell, Walsh, Wenzel, Werno, Williams, Wilson, Young, Zimmer, Zimmerman, Mr. President—57.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—[Special.]—The Treasury Department is confronted with two important problems. The first relates to the refunding of money collected on the various classes of imports. The Supreme Court has decided against the Government in the matter of the collection of duties on sugar imported from the Philippines, although the Government has been collecting duties on the Philippine sugars from the time of the ratification of the treaty of Paris. The second question relates to the refunding of money collected on the importation of sugar from Cuba. The Government has been collecting duties on Cuban sugars, but a treaty has been negotiated with Cuba which provides that the Government shall refund to the Cuban planters the duties collected on sugar imported from Cuba since the ratification of the treaty of Paris. A Great Gift Expected to Wet His Appetite—The Election Petition—Much Ado Ensued.

The Democratic politicians of this city are far from feeling overwhelming the Present extent to which they believe to have shared last November. The tactics of that season are now coming and what it seems, the to-morrow are proving stronger every day that they supported as a result the Democratic efforts will never make all. If anyone does not from that season to turn the Democratic office in this city please are just ready for the gubernatorial and Democratic campaign of next fall, will be thoroughly shorn. The reason why Democratic politicians have learned the extent to which Democratic party has shrunk in this city can be found in the fact that the Democratic candidate for Treasurer, Lyon, has refused to accept the nomination, in any way, and that it will be the policy of the administration to ignore all and every local candidate. In other words, the politicians begin to realize that the people have in no way to the Democratic representatives of Cook County, and is doomed to fail to receive from it a majority which they can control. The men looking for office under the National administration will have to look for all patronage to the Democratic Free Trade, the Lyceum, or the Harrison meeting halves that will appear in favor of supporting Republicans.

A good deal of wheat remains to be stack, and under these, owing to the excessive wet weather, will sprout in the shock. Where has already commenced to grow, and should the rain continue a few more days a large number of the stack will be ruined. Early potatoes are generally rotting. Nearly all the hay has rotted for lack of the sun to cure it.

Palatine, Ill., Aug. 31.—[Special.]—Farmers have harvested a large per cent of the crops in this vicinity. Reports from the last harvest is very interesting nearly all agree that there will be a shortage of per cent, and the quality is destroyed. Today the attraction in our city was Barnum's monument to grandeur. Many do here the parade and that circus will be the attraction, it was not. Many people from this place went to Chicago to see the show, but were disappointed. Many of them were in this city to-day, and say that they will not go to see the show again.
